SUMMARY OF THE REASONS FOR DECISION:

The DVD Innocence is classified as:

Unrestricted: Suitable for mature audiences 16 years of age and over.

The publication is a DVD containing a feature that is identical to a feature contained on a 35mm film of the same title (OFLC No.1014) which has been previously classified by the Office of Film and Literature Classification. The decision was registered on 30 June 2000. The classification of that film was "Unrestricted: Suitable for mature audiences 16 years of age and over" with the descriptive note "Contains sex scenes."

The DVD contains a number of other components, such as a short non-fictional film by the director of the feature about a rest home for elderly women, several trailers, and interviews with the director and stars of the feature. The interview components are informative and reinforce the artistic merit in the feature. Some of the trailers contain very brief, and relatively inexplicit depictions, of sexual activity, as well as brief depictions of breast nudity. These depictions are not as explicit or impactful as some depictions in the feature. The extra components do not add anything that would result in the DVD receiving a different classification to that given to the film. Consequently, the DVD is also classified as unrestricted and suitable for mature audiences 16 years of age and over.
